IN CONFIDENCE

Dear Mr Dowling

I refer to your email of 27 May 2015 which you had addressed to Justices Harrison, McCallum and Hulme of NSW Supreme Court and in which this Commission was one of several cc recipients.

What happens next

We will conduct an initial assessment of your information. I enclose a fact sheet, providing details on our role, jurisdiction and processes for dealing with allegations of suspected corrupt conduct in the NSW public sector. It also outlines the kind of material that assists us in assessing reported matters.

It is noted that you have not made allegations of corrupt conduct directly to the Commission and that the information you provided lacks specificity. We would appreciate it if you could make any allegations of corrupt conduct involving NSW public officials or public authorities directly to us together with any relevant information you may have in support of those allegations.

In your email, you alleged that:

- The applicants' statement of claim raises allegations of judicial bribery and corruption by the three named justices. Please advise about the specifics of these allegations and provide any relevant supporting information you may have.
- If one pays extra in the Supreme Court of NSW, one can get ex parte hearings and court order to their liking. Please advise about the specifics of these allegations and provide any relevant supporting information you may have.

Please provide the above information as soon as practicable, preferably within 7 days. If that is not possible, contact me to advise of your intention to provide more information and when we would be likely to receive it.

Once we have completed the assessment process, we will notify you of the outcome in writing, with reasons for the Commission's decision. Please note that not all matters received by the Commission result in an investigation.

If you would like more information about the Commission, our investigations and other activities, visit our website at www.icac.nsw.gov.au.

Please quote the reference number above whenever you contact us.

Yours sincerely

Leila Malin
