Subject: Shane Dowling's fraud complaint against lawyer Mark Davis who owns XD Law & Advocacy

Dear Sir/Madam

Lawyer Mark Davis who owns XD Law & Advocacy is running a fraud scam with Jordan Shanks, aka YouTuber Friendlyjordies, raising funds for court cases that do not exist and may never exist.

When questioned about the fraud Mark Davis refused to answer questions.

They set up the Wombat Trust and started raising money in October 2024, on the crowdfunding website Chuffed.org, to pay for administration costs for lawyers doing pro bono work for environmental court cases.

Other law firms are meant to approach Mark Davis or Jordan Shanks for grants if they want funds.

So far, they have raised $82,439 of a targeted $200,000 for the Wombat Trust.

There is no public account of the money actually being used. There are no published case names, no disbursement totals, no list of firms paid, and no updates on the Chuffed page showing grants.

What is clear from 2 Jordan Shanks videos is that Mark Davis is a major decision maker and driver of the Wombat Trust and is also a major beneficiary but that is not declared on the Wombat Trust fundraising page.

Myself and others have asked questions about the trust and where the money has gone but neither Mark Davis nor Jordan Shanks will say.

Since when can lawyers raise money for court cases that do not exist and might never exist?

Jordan Shanks in a known grifter who has previously raised $millions for a defamation court case, settled for $100,000, and kept the rest with the help of Mark Davis.

I have just published a video on the matter here: <https://youtu.be/4xb0IC63b98>

I will also have an article on my website detailing the key facts on Thursday (8/10/26) here: <https://kangaroocourtsofaustralia.com/2026/10/08/labors-friendlyjordies-200000-fraud-scam-exposed>

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.
